FORM LEAGUE FOR WEST GLENDALE BETTERMENT

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION IS PERFECTED TO TAKE UP CIVIC QUESTIONS

Permanent organization of the West Glendale Progressive league was perfected at a public meeting of West Glendale residents held in the auditorium of the high school last night.

The meeting was called by a committee authorized by the West Glendale Improvement league, a body without a constitution or by-laws which has for some months been active in the interests of the western portion of the city, especially in opposing the proposed opening of Commercial street, which it successfully fought.

In calling last night's meeting, the committee on behalf of the league stated, in part:

"There is a strong desire on the part of a large number of its members to maintain this organization in some form, and at their last meeting voted to reorganize with a definite object, and proper constitution and by-laws governing such organization, to further improvement and protect the interests of the residents of our beautiful city."

League Permanently Organized

As a result, the league was permanently organized last night, a constitution and by-laws adopted and officers elected. Further, the meeting authorized an investigation of the proposed bond issues and city charter to be voted upon by the city March 29, and, if possible, a report will be submitted at the organization's first regular meeting to be held Tuesday night, March 8.

Following are the officers elected: Isabel M. Barnett, president.

Eugene Wilson, first vice president.

F. A. Clarke, second vice president.

J. Mac MacMillan, secretary.

Warren W. Stevenson, treasurer.

The officers will hold a meeting at the home of President Barnett, 364 Wilson avenue, next Friday night at 7:45 o'clock for the purpose of selecting, as provided by the by-laws, a legislative committee of five members and an advisory committee of five members.

The constitution provides a meeting shall be held by the league the second Tuesday in every month.

Dues $1 Per Year

It was decided that the active members of the league shall pay dues of $1 a year. The active and associate membership list, the constitution provides, is open to any individual residing in or owning property in that district lying west of Brand boulevard, north of Lomita avenue, east of San Fernando Road and south of Doran street. However, the meeting last night decided that the membership need not be confined to that district, but to the entire west side.

The organization already has an active membership, it was stated, of about 100. There are, it is estimated, more than 1500 persons available as active or associate members. The (Continued on Page 5)

MRS. J. H. SHERMAN LUNCHEON HOSTESS

ENTERTAINS SEVERAL FRIENDS YESTERDAY AT HER HOME, 341 WEST BROADWAY

Mrs. J. H. Sherman entertained at a beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon at her home, 341 West Broadway, yesterday, the honoree being Mrs. William Ingram of Oakland.

The dining table was centered with an exquisite bouquet of pale pink spring blossoms, resting upon a handsome center piece of cluny lace.

Flowers of delicate pink were tastefully arranged throughout the attractive home, where with conversation and music the afternoon sped all too quickly to Mrs. Sherman's appreciative guests.

The friends enjoying the hospitality of the occasion were:

Mrs. William Ingram, Mrs. Emma Wood, Mrs. T. S. Caldwell, Mrs. W. S. Ingram and Jean and Stuart Caldwell.

MACHINE SHOP AND GARAGE

The Roy L. Kent company has the contract for the construction of a machine shop and garage building for J. K. Todd, which is to rise on Glendale avenue between Broadway and Harvard street. Ground was broken today for the 50 by 60 foot tile structure which will have a cement floor and be equipped for machine work.

DR. ROBERT SHULER
Pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, South, of Los Angeles, who spoke at Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday.

George Clayton Loses Crank From His Auto, Advertises; and-Then!

"Drop one and pick up four." No, Agnes, this is not a home-brewed recipe for a crocheted milk bottle.

It is simply the experience of George Clayton, the Dodge dealer.

He dropped one crank from his automobile.

Then he put a lost ad in the classified columns of The Glendale Evening News. He picked up four by this method, now having one for breakfast, lunch, dinner and midnight supper, too.

This morning he contemplated the advisability of placing an advertisement in The Glendale Evening News for his lost car.

Wouldn't wonder but what he'd get similar results.

Two Boys Disappear

Boys will be boys.

"Bill" Redmond and "Jack" Walton, both 14 and big, were tardy at Intermediate school yesterday morning.

Last night they disappeared. They had planned to go to Arizona and win their fortunes.

Maybe so. The police, however, are looking for them and will invite them home.

"Bill" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Redmond, 331 West Harvard.

"Jack" lived with his mother, Mrs. C. J. Walton, No. 36, Glendale apartments. He left the following note:

"Dear Mother—Don't worry, I am safe and can't get along at school and dad is going to send me to military school, so guess I will beat it. Don't tell dad, it will worry him.

"Yours lovingly,

"JACK."

"P. S. Don't worry."

After which he drew a smile. So they'll come back smiling, surely.

Profitable Luncheon

It took them several hours to figure out a profit.

But they did.

And it was 44 cents.

At least that's the announcement by Miss Ellen J. Hanson of the domestic science department of the Glendale Union High school on the result of the luncheon served the directors of the Chamber of Commerce the first of the week at the school's model bungalow.

The business men voted to dine there again, all agreeing that they more than got their money's worth at 50 cents per plate.

HENRY A. GOODWIN FUNERAL

Funeral services for Henry A. Goodwin, aged 71 years, who passed away at his home, 304 East Windsor Road, yesterday morning, will be held from the Little Church of the Flowers Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Pulliam & Kiefer in charge.

Mr. Goodwin is survived by a widow and four sons, Harry R. Goodwin and Ray S. Goodwin of Glendale, Lee W. Goodwin of Los Angeles and Roy I. Goodwin of Boise, Idaho.

DISCUSS CLOSING STORES

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night, a motion introduced by V. M. Hollister was carried calling for a committee to call on the business men of the city in reference to closing on holidays and obtaining some sort of a general agreement. Dan Campbell, G. H. Bentley and S. C. Packer were chosen by President C. C. Cooper to interview the various merchants on the subject.

DR. SHULER ASSERTS $50,000 IN BUILDING GREATEST ASSET LAST 36 HOURS IN GLENDALE

SPEAKER AT LUNCHEON FOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE URGES AMERICANISM

Character is the greatest asset any community can have, was the declaration of Dr. Robert Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, south, at the first forum luncheon held under the auspices of the re-organized Glendale Chamber of Commerce in the banquet room of the First Methodist church at noon yesterday, with more than 100 persons attending.

The speaker did not preach—but he did talk on character building and Americanism. He had no text—but he did have a subject. It was "The Booster and His Boost." He made what many of those in the audience declared was a snappy, punctuated talk. His remarks were punctuated by stories and his method of delivery pleased the gathering, judging by the applause. He was given a vote of thanks at the close of the meeting for the excellence of his remarks and the information afforded.

Luncheon Is Success

The luncheon was served by women of the First Methodist church and they were given a vote of thanks upon the quantity and quality of the meal.

C. C. Cooper, newly-elected president of the Chamber of Commerce, called the gathering to order, then presented Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Presbyterian church, chairman of the forum committee, who made a brief talk on co-operation.

Rev. Edmonds declared that co-operation is absolutely necessary in every undertaking. He said that he is in hearty accord with the aims of the Chamber of Commerce. He said further that, perhaps, there may be some things develop that may not meet with his hearty approval, but he is willing, so long as the movement is for the best interests of the city and is favored by the majority, to do his part. He pointed out that big accomplishments are not easily made successful without real co-operation. Tugging and hauling one way and another and minority opposition that is not well founded do not, he said, make for co-operation and success.

He declared that Rev. Shuler was a "live wire" and predicted that the audience would hear some truths, plainly and pointedly told by the speaker of the day. He then introduced Rev. Shuler.

Action Is Needed

Painting a word picture of the glories to be found in southern California, Rev. Shuler declared that, coming originally from the south, he was really not in a position to talk of boosting to the boosters of southern California. He declared that there is no place in the world where harder boosters are to be found than in southern California. He said that recently he had attended a meeting, had heard a number of boost talks and when called upon himself to speak had declared that if the boosters would place a pipe in the ocean (Continued on Page Six)

STEALS 51 AUTOS, OFFICERS CHARGE

B. VAN TASSELL OF THIS CITY DOES GOOD BIT OF WORK BEHALF OF POLICE

When a thief stole an automobile belonging to B. Van Tassel, 110 North Cedar street, Glendale, at Long Beach on the night of Washington's Birthday celebration, he forged the link in a chain of evidence which will likely solve the mystery of many stolen cars, according to police officials.

Mr. Van Tassel did not wait a moment after the discovery of his loss to notify the police department, sheriff's office and Automobile club. Before midnight messages were spread broadcast over the countryside.

Alleged Thieves Taken

The next morning when the Van Tassel car shot across the U. S.-Mexican border at Calexico, authorities there identified it as the one which had been stolen the night before and driven directly to Imperial Valley. Following it into Lower California, they captured an alleged ring of thieves engaged in the nefarious crime of changing numbers and repainting the cars in an out-of-the-way shack.

C. C. James of Calexico, who had been dealing in used cars, was arrested and charged with receiving stolen property, it being alleged that he had disposed of fifty-one cars which were taken from various southern California towns, according to the story told Mr. Van Tassel by the officers at El Centro. He was in that city yesterday recovering his car, returning to Glendale this morning.

ARMED OPPOSITION IS NOT EXPECTED TO BE MADE

MILITARY MOVEMENT RESULT OF FAILURE TO MEET ALL OF ALLIED DEMANDS

By JOHN DE GANDT
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, March 2.—French railroads were ordered today to hold themselves in readiness to transport troops to the German frontier.

The order was the most important of a series issued by military and government authorities to prepare for a military movement to force obedience to the allied reparations demands.

French forces on the frontier were announced to be as follows:

110,000 infantrymen.
Three corps of cavalry.
1,000 guns.
300 airplanes.

The most important feature of the military preparations was believed to be the concentration of cavalry at the Rhine bridgeheads, serving as a threat to the Germans before the actual advance is begun.

Colonial troops again are arriving by way of Marseilles.

It became known today that the government had reliable information several days ago that the Germans had decided not to sign the reparation agreement and that Marshal Foch and Marshal Weygand immediately drafted plans for invasion of Germany. These plans were said to have been presented to the conference early in the London session.

The French press today called loudly for decisive action despite the apparent desire of British authorities to await the inauguration of a new administration in the United States.

Socialists were the main opponents of immediate invasion. They call the plans a militaristic scheme for French coal and iron kings to seize rich territory under the guise of reparations.

To Draw Up Ultimatum

LONDON, March 2.—An allied council of war met here today.

The premiers met military leaders to draw up an ultimatum to Germany and decide what steps to take if the Germans persist in their refusal to pay the $55,000,000,000 indemnity.

The councilors were in constant communication with the areas in France, where troops are preparing for a forward movement.

The delegation whose offer of reparations yesterday was branded generally as "an absurdity," is to meet the supreme council tomorrow.

The German delegation insisted that its proposal to pay $7,250,000,000 is the best that can be offered. They argued the weakness of German industry, the unfavorable rate of exchange and the effect of a long term debt on the workers.

French Officials Delighted

French representatives were delighted at the outcome of the session yesterday. Anxious to cripple the Germans, they saw an opportunity for carrying out their plans and obtaining control of German territory and industries.

The Italian delegation, headed by (Continued on Page 3)

BUSINESS BLOCK WILL BE BUILT

VERTMONT HOTEL TO MOVE TO MAKE WAY FOR STRUCTURE WITH 3 STORE ROOMS

Coming close behind the announcement the first of this week of six new business structures to be erected here this spring, Howard W. Walker of the Walker Investment company stated this morning that about May 1 that concern would remove the Vermont hotel property from its present location at Broadway and Maryland avenue and in its place build a one-story, three-store block.

This improvement will follow the same lines as the Central building, which it will adjoin, and in time will have a second story added to make the whole frontage look as one building. The Walker Investment company, which is comprised of members of the Walker family, recently bought the Vermont property from the Central Building association, in which the former corporation owns 50 per cent of the stock, according to Mr. Walker.

BOND ELECTION FOR GRAND VIEW

WATER DISTRIBUTING SYSTEM
AND OTHER IMPROVEMENTS
TO BE VOTED UPON

Twenty residents and members of the Grand View Improvement association in northwest Glendale met last night at the home of L. H. Applegate, corner of Sixth street and Grand View avenue, and unanimously approved the proposition to call a municipal bond district election for water mains and other improvements.

As a result City Manager T. W.
Watson presented those present with the legal petitions and the requisite number to assure the election signed.
The petitions will be presented to the Glendale Board of Trustees tomorrow night for action. The district will be officially known as No. 4.

Among many other questions discussed, it was decided that the association's tree-planting committee would meet Friday with City Forester Frank Marek and visit the different parts of town to select the proper sort of shade trees which will be planted along the streets in that district.

GERMANY WILL NOT USE ARMS, NOW SEEMS BELIEF

FRENCH INSIST THAT DEMANDS
OF ALLIES BE MET; TROOPS
READY FOR ACTION

Count Storza, urged that there be no precipitate action. There were indications that Italy will not participate in any military action which the allies may agree upon.

Marshal Foch prepared still further for military action by summoning the Belgian chief of staff, General Maglinze, here. It is believed that his amended plans call for the occupation of the Ruhr basin in addition to an extended advance by French troops.

There also was a possibility that at least one division of British soldiers might be employed. Britain, however, will be relied upon mainly for blockading important German ports.

British Press Surprised
The British press expressed great surprise at the German offer of $7,290,000,000, about one-eighth of the allied demand. "Impossible, grotesque, ludicrous, impotent and absurd" were some of the adjectives
employed in editorials.

They pointed out that the German figures hardly will bear close examination, as Foreign Minister von Simons "calmly calculates on capitalization of the Paris figures as if paying cash tomorrow, then proposes to distribute over thirty years payments
at the lowest rate of interest."

Adjournment Is Taken
The allied leaders, surrounded by famous military officers, legal advisers and economic experts, had not completed their war council at 2 o'clock and adjourned until 5 p. m.
Marshal Foch's plans for occupation were spread before the supreme council, which was informed also of the progress the French have made in preparing to reinforce the army of occupation.

It was semi-officially admitted that French forces are on the move and that the Ruhr valley will be occupied by them if the council approves. The French were said to plan seizure of all German customs houses along the frontier, levying a 50 per cent tax on all German exports.

Germany at Mercy of Allies
LONDON, March 2—German delegates here admitted today that their country is at the mercy of the allies.
Germany would be unable to resist
an invasion even as far as Berlin,
they said.

"Let them come in and run the country," exclaimed Ministerial Director von Simson, right-hand man to Foreign Minister von Simons.

"Wait and see," was von Simons'
comment.
The German foreign minister declared he will resign if the allies take military action. Apparently he did not think it will be necessary.

The Germans held to the hope that the allied threats are mere "sword
rattlings."

The Germans insisted that the allies cannot take military action before May 1, holding there will be no breach of the Versailles treaty before that date.

No Armed Resistance
Germany will attempt no armed resistance if the allies should enter
the country, Herr von Kauffmann,
chief of the press section of the German delegation, told the United Press today.

"If the allies take military action
now," he said, "we will consider the Versailles treaty broken and no longer binding on us. Any such action will merely solidify the German people in opposing the Paris decision on reparations. I am sure the workers will quit if the allies advance and France will see what she will get out of it."

Von Kauffmann said he believed France would not attempt to go so far as Berlin.

AMOUNTS DECIDED FOR SCHOOL FUND

GET HIGHEST SUM IN APPORTIONMENTS

der the apportionment of the state school fund, Superintendent of Public Instruction Will C. Wood announced.

apportionment.

tendance for the state schools ending
June 30, 1920, was 387,899.

Locals And Personals

Nathan Rigdon of 224 West Doran street left yesterday for San Diego
on a short business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Haven and daughter, Miss Lindall Haven, of 409
West Salem street, had as guests last Sunday Mrs. Edward Welch and the Misses Lucy, Helen and Mabel Welch.
In the afternoon they motored to Venice and other beaches to try out their new Allen sedan.

Mrs. C. H. Pendleton of 360 Myrtle street entertained at 500 yesterday afternoon. The guests were Mrs. H.
V. Henry, Mrs. G. B. Pratt and her house guest, Mrs. Digges of Portland, Oregon, Mrs. Ed Wolbach, Mrs.
Boudaux, Mrs. R. Chappel, Mrs. A. H.
Montgomery and the hostess, Mrs.
Pendleton. Pink carnations were used as decorations.

The R. T. W. class of the First Baptist church met yesterday at the home of Mrs. R. E. Olin, 400 North Isabel street. Twenty-five members were present. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs.
Jewsbury. After the business meeting Mrs. Walter Stamps took charge.
Solos by Mrs. Merrill Russell were enjoyed. During the afternoon refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ingram received a visit yesterday from Miss Cora Brooks and a party of relatives
from Winnipeg, Canada, who have been making an extensive tour of the United States from coast to coast.
The guests declared themselves as surprised and charmed with the scenic beauty and general attractiveness of Glendale, and also announced their intention of returning to this city at some future time.

Glendale Union High school students this afternoon heard Arthur Kachel, Hollywood dramatic instructor, read the "Music Master," in which David Warfield starred for years. The auditorium was insufficient to accommodate the large number who wished to hear the play interpreted. There is hardly a single point in Warfield's art which could be more stirring than Mr. Kachel's recreation of Anton von Barwig, the Music Master. He brought out forcibly both the humor and pathos of the old German's character and held the close attention of his youthful audience every moment.

tions and installations of water and light service at the public service department at the city hall. The moves yesterday were:

COUPLE OCCUPIES CHURCH AS HOME

TWO PEWS CONVERTED INTO
TWIN BEDS; HIGH COST OF LIVING BEATEN

CINCINNATI, Ohio—W. H. Hauck,
Sunday school superintendent of the Asbury Methodist church, found a married couple beating the high cost of living by using the church for a home.

Hauck found the man and woman
preparing breakfast on the church
range in the church kitchen. A table was set with the church dishes. Two pews had been converted into twin beds.

"We are living here because it is cheaper than living in a house or an apartment," the man told Hauck.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS SEEK SECRETARY FROM MANY

NUMBER OF APPLICANTS WILL BE INTERVIEWED; BOARD TO DINE EVERY TUESDAY

Several important problems, besides the adoption of a program of work, were considered by the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at its meeting last night
in headquarters on Broadway.

A secretary, purchasing and auditing committees, accommodations for headquarters and luncheons and the time for meetings all came before the board for action and the following
decisions were made:

Directors Owen Emery, V. M. Hollister and J. G. Huntley were named by President C. C. Cooper as a committee to interview all applicants for the secretaryship and report back at Friday night's meeting of the board.

Purchasing Committee

Directors Jesse Smith, J. A. Newton and D. L. Gregg were chosen by the president as a purchasing committee; Directors C. D. Lusby, R. D.
White and Owen Emery as auditing committee and a committee of five members is still to be appointed to assist President Cooper in selecting committees to carry out the program.

The board will dine each Tuesday
noon at the high school model bungalow until further notice. The place for Wednesday noon forum meetings will be decided Friday night when Directors Roy L. Kent, J. G. Huntley and V. M. Hollister will report on arrangements. Directors Smith and Hollister are on a committee to make a survey of the business district and find suitable rooms for headquarters.

Reports on Campaign

At the first luncheon held by the directors, T. A. Stevenson made a report of the campaign, stating there had been secured 536 active and 176
reserve members, the latter making a total income of $1181.20, and the former, the active memberships, a total of $13,100; and a total for the two being $14,581.20 annually. Of this amount $7,145.38 has been collected.

On motion of Director R. L. Kent and seconded by Director V. M. Hollister, L. T. Rowley was appointed to represent Glendale at a meeting of San Fernando Valley Associated Chamber of Commerce meeting at Van Nuys Saturday night. Mr. Rowley has agreed to attend.

Eight Years Ago

The Glendale Laundry was a well-established institution eight years ago. It has been growing steadily and consistently ever since.

Modern machinery and equipment are added constantly and methods adopted, to keep this industry on a par with modern laundries everywhere.

More and more Glendale women are learning
to adopt our laundry service as the more modern way.

We are optimistic about the future of the Glendale Laundry as well as the future of Glendale.

A phone call will bring one of our wagons to your door.

TRACT FOR SMALL
HOMES IS BEING OPENED HERE

GARAGE BUNGALOWS BEING PUT ON TRACT AND PROVE TO BE DESIRABLE

Meeting a demand of long standing, the MacGregor Realty company, 106A East Broadway, of which John MacGregor is general manager, is building up a tract, comprising twenty-four lots, in the western part of Glendale with small homes which are being sold to a desirable class of investors.

The tract is bounded by Doran,
Chester, Concord and Milford streets
and the houses being erected there are, for the most part, two-room bungalows, suitable for garages or rear houses when the owners desire to build more commodious bungalows.
Two have been completed and others
are under way, according to Mr.
MacGregor.

Plan Proves Popular
Charles Winburn is the architect and superintendent of construction
and the designs follow the desires of the prospective owners.

With large 50 by 150 foot lots, the houses are being set about ninety feet
from the street, which leaves forty-five feet to the rear for garden plots
and chickens. This plan has a popular appeal with young people who are establishing homes and Mr. Mac-Gregor states that there is a ready sale of the property improved in this manner.

CITY AUTO PARKS
TO BE DISCUSSED

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO HAVE REPRESENTATIVES
AT GATHERING

A convention of representatives of municipalities and civic organizations
has been called for Pasadena on March 17 by the Chamber of Commerce of that city with a view of cooperating in the matter of auto camp grounds.

It is believed that by having the different cities get together on the proposition, a standard service can be maintained in all Southern California cities and congestion of certain grounds will be eliminated.

While Glendale has no auto park
as yet, it is understood that City Manager T. W. Watson and City Forester F. A. Marek plan to be present. At the Chamber of Commerce directors'
meeting last night, President Cooper
was instructed to have the chairman of the park committee, yet to be appointed, attend the meeting.

This interest in the auto park situation undoubtedly will result in the establishment of a motor tourists' camp grounds here this summer.

L. A. POLICE SHAKEUP

LOS ANGELES, March 2—In the first shakeup since he was made head of the police department, Chief Lyle Pendegast today shifted sixteen members of the local force. Rumors were current that sweeping changes
are yet to be made in the "purity squad" with a view to clamping the lid on vice violators.

Acting Lieutenant A. W. Gifford,
in charge of the vice squad, is to be relieved of his command, according to authoritative information, and will be transferred to the San Pedro precinct. A sergeant will be appointed to replace him, it is said.

FUNERAL DATE IS SET

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary B.
Gould, 78 years of age, will be held from the Pulliam & Kiefer chapel
Friday morning at 10 o'clock, not Thursday as previously stated. Interment will be in Grand View cemetery.

Mrs. Gould was the mother of J.
W. Gould of this city and well known in Tropic where she and other members of the family resided. She is survived by several children.

EIGHT YEARS AGO IN GLENDALE
MANY CHANGES ARE MADE IN VARIOUS
TRADE LINES

RECORDS SHOW THAT NUMBER
STILL DOING BUSINESS
AFTER 8 YEARS

From the city directory of 1913,
one learns that the following real estate dealers are continuing in business here:

Borthick Brothers, Cole & Dame-
rell, Edwards & Wilkey company,
J. H. Flower, Julius Kranz, F. W.

The Glendale Meat Market, conducted by C. W. Ingledue, and the Central Market, conducted by E. S.
McKee, also are still under the same management.

In other lines it is much the same,
a very few of those who were in business eight years ago remaining, although many are still residents of Glendale.

Familiar Names Found

Skimming through the directory
one finds such familiar names as
C. O. Pulliam and J. E. Phillips in the undertaking business, Roy L.
Kent associated with his father then
in architectural designing and building, Edward M. Weston conducting a photographic studio, S. C. Maranville with the Glenarry studio, Pierson Hanning running a barber shop,
C. M. Lund dealing in implements,
C. H. Bott as owner of the Glendale
Book Store, H. E. Betz, T. H. Addison, J. J. Burke, J. E. Peters, F. W.
Pigg, E. D. Yard, H. P. Sberell and
others in the contracting business;
Walker's Jewelry company, David Carney and R. M. McGee's dry goods stores, G. L. Smith, grocer; Cornwell

Toilet Parlor, W. E. Heald, jeweler;
Glendale Laundry, Tropic Nursery,
C. E. McPeck, lumber; Casa Verdugo restaurant under Mrs. C. A. Sowl's management; and S. Berman, then known as the Yale tailor.

The foregoing list, of course, only represents those in the same line of business today and is subject to error
of oversight in the 1913 directory
which was issued by J. J. Conrad.

Did You Ever Visit
Majestic Theatre in Glendale? It Was Here

Remember the Majestic theatre?
No, not the one in Los Angeles, but in Glendale.

It was here in the Central building in the room now occupied by the Chevrolet agency,
eight years ago.

And there was a Glendale Theatre, too, at Isabel and Broadway. Neither, however, were like the magnificent playhouses
of today for the movies were in their incipency and such films
as George Melford and Carlyle Blackwell and Mack Sennett and Ford Sterling ground out at Verdugo canyon and Edendale studios furnished the amusement of the evening.

James O. Stevenson
at Santa Barbara

James O. Stevenson of the American Social Reserve, who with his brother, T. A. Stevenson, conducted the membership drive for the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, is now
in Santa Barbara in a similar endeavor.

T. A. Stevenson plans to remain in Glendale until a permanent secretary
is secured by the board of directors,
the selection being expected within
the next week or ten days.

Mr. Stevenson, however, who is an expert of civic organizations, will have to be in Santa Barbara by the middle of March to aid his brother in closing the Chamber of Commerce campaign there.

EXECUTED BY SINN FEINERS

CORK, March 2—Dragged from the railway station here by Sinn Feiners, a dispatch clerk was taken to a tunnel and executed yesterday.
The armed band operated boldly in the face of increased vigilance by the military and escaped without placarding the body as usual. It assumed they objected to the clerk's part in the forwarding of official messages.

BALLOTS IN FAVOR SEWER

Burbank citizens by a vote of 349
to 104 decided to place a bonded indebtedness of $140,000 upon the city
for the construction of a sewer system and reduction plant. Glendale
still is contemplating such a move.

Glendale Evening News Building, 50x112 feet, at 139 South Brand
Boulevard, Glendale. It was completed June 1, 1920.

J. C. SHERER SELLS FIGURES PROCLAIM
MARCH 1, 1913, TO PRESENT OWNER
FIRST NATIONAL BANK GROWTH

TELLS OF PLANS TO INSTALL
ONE LINOTYPE IN PLANT
BY NEW PUBLISHER

With the purchase of The Glendale
News on March 1, 1913, by its present publisher, A. T. Cowan of Polo, Ill., who had successfully conducted
the Tri-County Press, Northern Illinois' largest country weekly and other papers, J. C. Sherer made the following farewell announcement in
the issue of February 28:

"The Glendale News has passed into the ownership of Mr. A. T. Cowan who will take charge of the property March 1. Mr. Cowan is a successful newspaper man of several years' experience who comes from Polo, Ill., bearing high testimonials as to his character and ability. He comes to Glendale with his family and expects to stay and do his full
part in the upbuilding of our city.
He will immediately make additions to the plant and expects within a short time to have a linotype machine and other equipment installed
which will enable him to do any work
in the printing line which our people
may require.

"We recommend Mr. Cowan to the people of Glendale and vicinity and bespeak for him not only the patronage which has been given the paper
in the past, but a large and immediate increase such as the community can well afford to give.

Expresses His Appreciation

"The retiring editor of The News expresses hereby his appreciation of the loyal support the paper has received from a portion of the community during the six years that he has been in control of it, and regrets
the severing of many pleasant business relations. He regrets also that temporarily, at least, he drops out of the fraternal circle of the "Fourth Estate," within which he has found friends. The course of The News
during the six years past has not been trimmed to meet the popular fancy,
the aim of the editor being to be honest first at the risk of being popular afterwards. We have upheld no cause in which we did not thoroughly
believe and have endeavored to win
fair success to be just and unprejudiced in dealing with matters of public interest.

"Our interests are still, as for thirty years past, in the sturdy and ambitious young city which we have seen grow out of the sage brush and the sheep pastures, and we hope to continue to assist in the pleasant duty of preparing Glendale for its bright future.

"J. C. SHERER."

Mr. Sherer is now the city clerk
for Glendale.

FIGHTS ANTI-JAP
REALTY MEASURE

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR IN
TAFT'S ADMINISTRATION
STATES HIS VIEWS

OLYMPIA, Wash.—Richard A.
Ballinger, secretary of the interior
under President Taft, urged the defeat of anti-Japanese land legislation
when he addressed the Washington legislature by special invitation.

"Congress has already acted on the immigration question," he declared,
"by restricting the number of all aliens who may enter."

Declaring that "no state should embarrass the national government
by offending a friendly nation," Ballinger read from the treaty with Japan which granted reciprocal right to the citizens of both these countries to own land for commercial purposes. He contended that the phraseology was broad enough to include land for agricultural purposes
also.

COLUMNS OF PAPER
EIGHT YEARS AGO
INTERESTING

WEEKLY TELLS OF BIG RAIN STORM; PERSONALS AND SOCIAL GATHERINGS

From the columns of the Glendale
Weekly News published eight years ago this week, the following "items"
are taken:

"A rainstorm, unprecedented for thirty years past in the quantity of water falling in the same period, began Sunday afternoon and continued
almost continuously until Thursday morning."

"Last Saturday's sunset at the close of a perfect day was suggestive
of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Moyses, 910 West Fifth."

"Tropico and Glendale are jointly interested in the water of Verdugo
canyon; it is their natural supply.
They should jointly own, develop and control it. Whether these two cities, whose interests in this matter are identical, ever take the water from the Owens river aqueduct or not, the water of Verdugo canyon will still be of greater value to this community
than any other supply of equal quantity and should not cost as much."

Water Municipality Developed
Further discussions of the water situation were also noted in that early copy of The News and as time went on, Glendale and Tropic became one and the water has since been municipally developed in Verdugo canyon as well as from wells at Brand's former pumping plant on San Fernando Road.

Among the personals in the issue
eight years ago this week the following were noted:

"Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon of Maryland avenue were among the Glendale people who attended the Shrine ball on Wednesday evening.

"Mrs. Lena Mackay Jack and Miss Adaline Jack of Los Angeles were luncheon guests on Tuesday at the home of Dr. Jessie A. Russell on Maryland avenue.

"Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery of Kenwood street were host and hostess
of a week-end dinner party given in honor of Mr. Willis Lusby of Topeka, Kan. Covers were arranged for sixteen guests.

"Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McFadden of Seventh (Elk) street, were host and hostess of an attractive dinner party on Saturday evening. Guests were
Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts and Professor and Mrs. A. W. Tower."

And so it went through the whole regime of activities in the budding
city.

REPORT OPPOSING DISARMING VOTED

LEAGUE OF NATIONS REFUSES
DISARMAMENT; COMMISSION
PLAN SUGGESTED

PARIS—Disarmament was discussed by the delegates to the League of Nations council meeting.

The report of Leon Bourgeois of France was adopted. This report reports many of the objections against disarmament that were raised at the assembly meeting at Geneva, notably the absence of the United States from the league.

The report recommends establishment of a mixed commission of military and naval experts, political,
financial and industrial representatives.

JESSE SMITH GIVES TALK TO CLUB ON SALESMANSHIP

SPEAKER BRINGS OUT FACT THAT YOUNG MAN MUST BE ABLE TO SELL SELF

The Dynamics of the Glendale
Presbyterian Dynamis club closed
the month's business with a business session Monday night at the home of one of their members, Warren Meeker, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.
W. Meeker, of 1320 East Colorado street, graciously opened up their beautiful home to the club.

Jesse E. Smith, local representative of the Ford Motor Car company of Detroit, gave the club a lecture on scientific salesmanship, in which he brought out the necessity for young men to be able to sell themselves to their fellowmen in the business world. He also stated very clearly that "anybody with the least bit of grit can rise from zero to a warmer climate in which grow the fruits of life—a necessity to people that are alive."

Candidates Initiated

Applicants who qualified for admittance to the club were initiated with due rites, according to the Greek interpretation for power.

A hot roast beef lunch was served
and as the rare treat was diminishing, beautiful music was rendered by Del Mar Wheeler, a professional pianist.

Mr. Meeker then told the boys a few interesting incidents in his own life, and after a word of prayer they were dismissed.

Duties of Members
The by-laws of the league provide that:

"It shall be the duty of each member to consider the welfare of Glendale as a whole and of West Glendale in particular in all civic matters to the exclusion of personal interests, and to report to the legislation committee any information which he or she deems may require consideration. All members of this organization should refrain as far as possible from signing any petitions relating to municipal matters until such time as the advisory committee shall have had time to report upon the merits of such plan, but it is distinctly agreed and understood that no member shall be considered bound by the report of this committee or by the vote of the organization."

Duties of Committees
The duties of the legislation and the advisory committees are outlined in the by-laws as follows:

The advisory committee "shall investigate and report upon the legal aspects of all proposed improvements and legislation and recommend what action it shall deem advisable."

BEVERAGES GIVEN REAL FOOD VALUE

CHIEF OF CHEMISTRY BUREAU FOR U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE REPORTS

Dr. C. L. Alsberg, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the United States department of agriculture, has announced that his department considers the carbonated beverage industry to be in the front rank of the various branches of the food industry. The government official's statement came as a real surprise to many people who have never considered carbonated beverages as a food product, and particularly when he stated that his bureau considers it one of the leading branches.

"I use this term 'food industry' designedly and advisedly," Dr. Alsberg continued. "An eight-ounce bottle of the average soft drink, when properly made, has real food value, and while it is perhaps true that few persons consume beverages specifically for their food value, at the same time the food value which we consume incidental to our regular meals is none the less valuable because taken incidentally, in the form of a delectable beverage to quench thirst, or to satisfy a craving for sweets.

"The average small bottle of soft drink contains about three-fourths of an ounce of sugar, which has an energy value equivalent to about three ounces of mashed white potato, as served on the table, and that is quite a generous serving; or, of three-fourths of a pound of tomatoes, and three-quarters of a pound of tomatoes, again, is a lot of tomatoes."

BACK TO FARM IS URGED IN TALK BY PASTOR

and suck as hard as they had blown, the water would be removed from its confines.

The speaker declared he despised a knocker. He said every community contained a knocker. He held, however, that he did not believe in the person who always said that everything was all right.

"I want to be considered a pessimistic optimist," he asserted. "I want to be considered an inquiring optimist, if you get what I mean. I don't want to be a knocker nor yet a full-fledged booster, for the latter, who can see 'nothing wrong anywhere, is almost as bad as the chronic knocker."

Cannot Grow Automatically
Rev. Shuler asserted that a community cannot grow automatically. To build a community, he said, men must put their very souls into the work.

He then took up the back-to-the-farm movement and declared that, in his opinion, one of the greatest perils menacing the American people is the fact, as proven by figures, that the foreign elements are securing farm lands everywhere in the United States and the Americans are moving to the cities and placing their sons and daughters at the steering wheels of automobiles.

"The foreign populations are grabbing the land and raising big crops and big families; the Americans are moving into the cities and are ceasing to raise families," he asserted. "The result will be that, in time, the cities will be put out of business by the foreigners. You say the foreign elements are becoming Americanized? Not so! In the great majority of cases they are, at heart, with their own countries, not ours."

Japanese Legislation
The speaker then referred to the legislation directed at the Japanese and asserted that if the law recently passed in California is operative and not another Japanese is permitted to enter the state, those here now will multiply so fast that, in a comparatively short time, they will, by the constitution, have full rights as American citizens and, because of their farming activities, control the cities.

Rev. Shuler urged that Americans educate their children in the principles of Americanism. He further declared that it was the duty of Americans to raise real families and declared that a barren American home was a crime against America.

Taking up the question of boosting, he said that one first must believe in the article he is boosting, for, he asserted, a salesman cannot be successful unless he thoroughly believes in what he is trying to sell. He illustrated his point with stories and told of his own experiences while working his way through college.

Tribute to Churches

Rev. Shuler also paid a tribute to the churches—not, he said, because he was a preacher, but because of the proven good churches are to a community. He said that he noticed but two preachers in his audience and wondered why more were not present. He asserted that if it were announced that every church in Glendale was to move out tomorrow, practically the whole city would soon be deserted, for, he said, even a man of family who never attended a church would not live in a city where there are no churches.

He declared that men of wealth who have families to raise are not now looking to Los Angeles as a place of residence—because of conditions said to be existing there—but are settling in surrounding communities where they will have more room and high moral conditions.

The speaker said that years ago one community near Los Angeles built a number of places of amusement and decided to run things "wide open." Another community, he said, built churches and conducted the municipality along high moral lines. The latter community, he said, was today much the larger and more prosperous. He declared that a city, as well as an individual, must have character.

Rev. Shuler referred to the Pilgrims and their "blue laws" and declared that if they had not had those "blue laws" there would have been no America today. He asserted that what Americans need today is more iron in their blood as had the Pilgrim fathers.

"Many people do not correctly value the churches," he said. "You can kiss your city good-night if you throw out the churches. The churches have something this country needs. When you are out riding in your automobile on Sunday, drop into a church and hear about it. Forget about the sanctimonious old preacher and the few faithful ones in the pews and get the message that the church has for America today. Characterization and Americanization is what America must have. American families—big ones—working on the farms is this country's need."

A story of the stage, it tells a pretty romance of a popular actress, who gives up her career to wed the man of her choice. Later she discovers his infidelity and returns to her profession. How she works out her problem and eventually finds happiness furnishes one of the most delightful stories the screen has produced in a long time. In this photoplay Miss MacDonald is at her best.

"Curtain" is the attraction at the Palace Grand today only. "Splash Me" is the mirth provoking comedy offered with Bray cartoons and Novel Shots to round out the program. The orchestra promises selections in jazz tune with the films.

LEAGUE REPLIES TO U. S.

PARIS, March 2—The league of nations reply to the American mandate note was handed to Ambassador Hugh Wallace.

RECOGNITION BY LEAGUE GRANTED

RIGHTS OF U. S. TO VOICE IN FIXING MANDATE RETURNS FREELY ADMITTED

By HENRY WOOD
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS—The right of the United States to a voice in fixing mandate returns is recognized by the league of nations council in a note laid before the council by A. J. Balfour, British delegate.

The note was drafted in answer to Secretary of State Colby's protest on the Mesopotamian and Yap mandates, awarded Great Britain and Japan. It was understood to be of a most friendly character.

The council was split, however, on the proper method of inviting the United States to participate in mandate discussions. There was a fear that if she were invited to take part in a conference she would refuse as she has declined other invitations to act on various league commissions.

There was a possibility that the allied supreme council, which assigned the island of Yap to Japan, would be invited to reconsider its action.

EMERGENCY TARIFF MEASURE HELPS CITRUS TRADE

BANKER TELLS OF SOME OF FACTS OBTAINED FROM
RESEARCH EXPERTS

LOS ANGELES—Just what adoption of the emergency tariff bill, imposing upon foreign lemons a duty of 2 cents per pound, means to California lemon growers was outlined to the United Press by E. S. Pauly, vice president of the First National bank of Los Angeles.

The research department of the bank of which Pauly is an official has made a careful study of lemon production costs.

"An import duty of not less than 2 cents per pound is essential if the California lemon industry is to be preserved," he said.

"Failure to protect the California lemon industry would make the United States depend upon inferior lemons at prices above those at which California lemons could be profitably produced," he emphasized.

Demoralization of foreign exchange and high cost of rail transportation between California and eastern markets are permitting the importation of foreign lemons in such quantities and such low prices that the California producer is marketing his product in New York City at a loss averaging 75 cents per box, Pauly said.

Profit of 30 Cents Per Box
An increase in the tariff on foreign lemons from one-half a cent to 2 cents a pound, he pointed out, would raise the import duty per box of lemons from approximately 35 cents to $1.40 per box, an increase of $1.05.

"As a result the same quantity of California lemons which now is entering the eastern markets," he asserted, "could be sold for a mean average of $4.71 instead of $3.66 per box. At this price California producers would receive a profit of 30 cents a box."

"This margin is small. It would, however, probably be sufficient to protect growers from immediate loss following a drop in prices which might result from increased shipments from California."

Assurance that the industry would not be ruined through competition resulting from temporary abnormal world conditions, Pauly said, would permit California producers to arrange to ship their citrus fruit to eastern markets through the Panama canal in refrigeration vessels.

"In this manner," he explained, transportation costs between southern California and the Atlantic seaboard could be cut approximately 40 cents per box. This cut in cost would be sufficient to absorb permanently any price decrease which might result from the normal marketing of a normal crop of California lemons.

"Italian lire are at a discount of approximately 60 per cent in the United States." If the Italian producers were to receive the same number of lire per box of lemons as they now receive, it would be necessary for Italian lemons to sell at $5.61 per box in the United States with lire at the par of exchange.

"In other words, under normal conditions foreign producers could not deliver lemons in the United States as cheaply as California lemons can be delivered in New York City."

"If the California lemon industry is forced out of existence because of failure to obtain a tariff sufficient to protect it from present unsettled economic conditions in Europe, Pauly said, it will in the long run prove detrimental to lemon consumers in the United States."

Lew Cody Is Shown at Glendale Theatre

In "The Butterfly Man," which is the offering at the Glendale theatre, Lew Cody essays a more purposeful role than has fallen to his lot in many moons.

Producers, in the past, have given the popular star big parts, indeed, but those entirely suggested by his masculine attractiveness and his histrionic "way with women." In "The Butterfly Man," a story originally written by George Barr McCutcheon, Cody ultimately belies the title of the role he assumes.

The story in its screen form carries a vital note of protest against the superficial existence of those who live solely for pleasure and self-indulgence.

The feature proved especially attractive yesterday on account of the many Glendale girls taking part. Other numbers on the program were equally attractive, which assures good attendance tonight.

Thursday and Friday "Ramona" is the feature.

BIRD FAMILIES ARE HERE, PREPARING THEIR HOMES

JUST ANOTHER INDICATION OF SPRING; SONGS OF GOOD CHEER BEING HEARD

By ALFRED COOKMAN
Department of Science, Glendale
High School

The wave of avian migration into southern California has apparently ceased. Birds from the Arctic Circle have arrived at our neighboring ponds, lakes and sloughs, and inland tree-covered areas. Birds from the Torrid Zone are with us fluttering among the wild sage, in the open meadows and pastured lands, and in the city parks. Birds from the high mountains have come down into the valleys. The wild flowers are blooming and all nature seems aglow. The dawn of spring is here. In the evening sky, the big dipper is turned over and the "Indian Summer" is indicated. The mocking bird is singing merrily, carrying his message of good cheer far into the late hours of the night. The crickets and the frogs are chirping down by the river. The hills and the valleys are alive with many strange and peculiar forms. Insects are emerging from their chrysalis coverings and the spiders are spinning new webs.

Nest Building Under Way

It has been my pleasure to note that the birds are mating. Several nests are in progress of construction. The house finch (carpodacus mexicanus frontalis) and the brewer's blackbirds (euphagus cyanocephalus) are hunting for bits of twigs, paper, string and down to complete the construction of their cup-shaped nests. The western meadowlark (sturnella m. neglecta) and the willow gold finch (astra galinus tristis salicamans) are also seeking shelter among the wild mustard and barley in the fields and meadow lands preparing to build their nests, obeying a natural law of secondary sexual instinct. This is, indeed, one of the most fascinating periods in the calendar year—one of the most charming seasons to study natural phenomena—the most feasible time to get acquainted with nature.

Have you ever studied the swallow at home? Have you ever watched the linnet construct her little nest in your rose bush or honeysuckle vine? Look around your garden and devote an hour or two in the study of bird life. Birds are the most fascinating and entertaining of all wild animals. Everyone likes the little feathered songsters. They make the fields and the woods full of pleasure for us. Birds are a very great help to the farmers and fruit growers. Only a very few species are detrimental. If they do take a few berries and a little grain we should not begrudge it of them.

Many Species in State

The state of California has 564 species listed within her confines. There are 377 common birds, 168 water fowl, 108 game birds, 23 hawks, 19 owls, 97 finches and sparrows and six humming birds. California is the "Birds' Paradise" and their cheerful song fills our soul with delight.

Several years ago, in company with a troop of Boy Scouts, we went on a hike into the San Gabriel mountains. Far back in a dark canyon, we observed a strange, timid bird racing over the jagged rocks in the direction of the falls. The entire plumage was uniform slate-color, more brownish on head and neck. The bill was black. The bird was about seven inches long. We followed the frantic creature for a hundred yards and finally located its nest well hid among the moss near the falls.

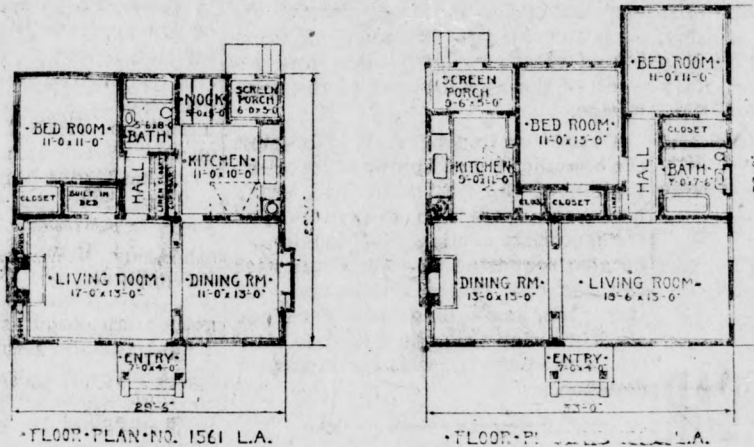

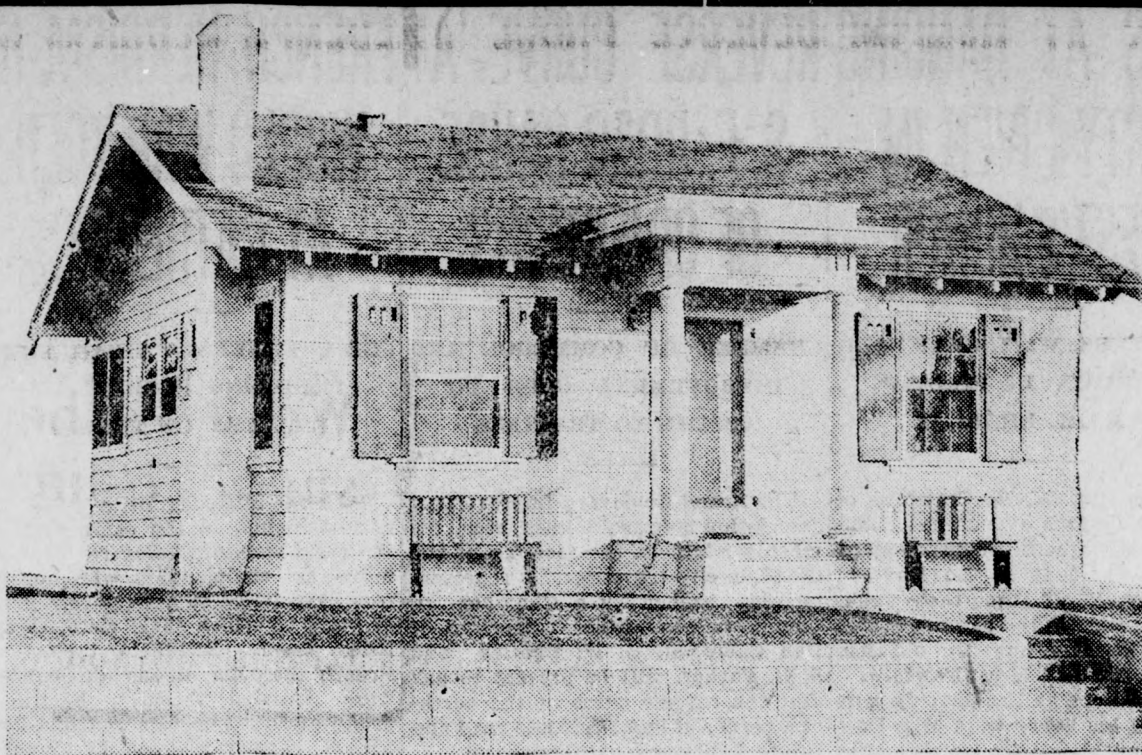

The boys were eager to learn its name and I finally told them that it was the American Dipper—Water Ouzel (cinclus mexicanus) belonging to the family of wrens and thrashers. No canyon is too cold for this little bird, none too lonely, providing it be rich in falling water.

During Indian Summer

One writer has truly said, "During the golden days of Indian Summer, after most of the snow has been melted, and the mountain streams have become feeble—then the song of the Ouzel is at its lowest ebb. But as soon as the winter clouds have bloomed and the mountain treasures are once more replenished with snow, the voice of the streams and of the Ouzels increase in strength and richness until the flood season of the early summer. Then the torrents chant their noblest anthems, and then is the flood-tide of our songsters' melody. As for weather, dark days and sun days are alike to him."

The thrill of discovering my first Ouzel's nest will never be forgotten. The nest is a very bulky, oven-shaped structure composed of green moss with an entrance at one side. It was lined with fine rootlets and feathers. There was one egg in the nest, pure white. The breeding season is in the months of May and June. There is a strange fascination in the study of the nesting habits of our California birds.

IRELAND SUBJECT FOR DISCUSSION

LITERARY SECTION OF CLUB
HOLDS MEETING; PROGRAM
PROVES INTERESTING

The literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of the curator, Mrs. A. M. Williams, 208 South Orange street. The subject for the day, which was "Ireland," was in charge of Mrs. C. E. Norton, who read a most delightful paper on the people and the country, not touching in any way, however, the present political disturbances.

Mrs. W. H. Verity and Mrs. C. E. Stanley had charge of current events. In the absence of Mrs. Katherine Hines, her subject, which was the current magazines, was handled in a most acceptable manner by her young daughter. The members present answered roll call by telling an Irish story.

There were four guests and twenty-one members present. The guests included Miss Vernilaya, lecturer, who is to give a talk on current events to the section at the next meeting; Mrs. Jones, Mrs. R. E. Downing and Mrs. Everts. After the program a social hour was enjoyed, during which refreshments were served.

LUCKY SEVEN IS HOODOO TO BOAT

FAILS TO WARD OFF DEATH
AND DAMAGE TO VESSEL;
JINX PROVES STRONG

SAN DIEGO—The lucky number seven failed to ward off misfortune from the destroyer Woolsey sunk near Balboa. The jinx burst through a veritable guard of seven surrounding her name and history.

Her number was "77," she sailed from here January 7 and had been gone exactly seven weeks. She was launched in 1918; had a displacement of 1247 tons and her keel was laid in November, 1917. Captain Melancton Taylor Woolsey for whom the destroyer was named, was born in 1772.

Inquiry Is Started

An investigation of the cause of the sinking of the U. S. Destroyer Woolsey in a collision with the steamer Steel Inventor will be held at Balboa by a navy board of inquiry.

The fifteenth division of destroyers, of which the Woolsey was part, has been ordered to return to Balboa for the inquiry. The tender, Birmingham, also has been ordered back to Balboa. Latest radio reports received here state that one man, T. S. Woodcock, a first-class water tender, is known to have been killed, fifteen others are missing and four are injured. All of the injured and missing were members of the engine room force. It is believed the missing men went down with the ship.

PLANS REDUCTION IN COTTON ACRES

OUT OF FIFTY PER CENT ALL OVER WORLD, PROPOSED BY INDIVIDUAL GROWER

NEW YORK — Cotton acreage throughout the world is to be reduced an average of 50 per cent next season if present plans are carried out, it is learned.

Confronted by falling prices and an enormous surplus, American planters expect a decreased acreage of twenty to twenty-five per cent. The Egyptian acreage has been reduced 66 per cent and a substantial cut has been made in the East Indies.

Prices, however, "are about as low as they will go for the present" in the opinion of Theodore H. Price, editor of Commerce and Finance, and an authority on cotton.

ACTS OF SAVAGES, CHARGES GENERAL

MILITARY COMMANDER FOR BRITISH IN IRELAND IS AROUSED BY FEINNERS

DUBLIN — "Acts, such as would not be indulged in by the wildest savages in central Africa," were charged against the Sinn Fein by General Macready.

The military commander in Ireland, appealing to his forces to maintain discipline despite provocative acts, said five unarmed soldiers were killed last week—three at Woodford and two at Bandon.

"Undoubtedly these were deliberate attempts to provoke the soldiery to acts of reprisal and provide ammunition for scurrilous propaganda at home and abroad," the general declared.

BIG INCREASE IN TRADE REPORTED

LATIN-AMERICAN COUNTRIES
DO INCREASED BUSINESS

WASHINGTON — Trade with Latin-America is increasing rapidly and constitutes one-fourth of the foreign commerce of the United States, the Department of Commerce announced. Trade with Latin-America in 1920 amounted to $3,378,185,567, a total increase of 45 per cent over any previous year. Forty-two per cent of the total trade last year was with Europe, 19 per cent with the Far East, 12 per cent with Canada, and two per cent with Africa, the department said.

MASS MEETING TO HEAR NEEDS OF CITY SCHOOLS

VERDUGO SECTION IS EXPECTED TO ASK FOR BUILDING IN IMMEDIATE VICINITY

Tomorrow night citizens of Glendale will hold a mass meeting at the Intermediate school, Kenwood and Wilson avenue, for the purpose of being advised of the crowded conditions in the grammar schools.

The board of trustees will seek the public's opinion in the matter of calling a bond election to provide for facilities to meet the 28 per cent increase in the last year, according to Superintendent Richardson D. White. It is Mr. White's view that another intermediate school is essential at this time and that it should be located in the southern part of Glendale.

Verdugo Wants School

He is also authority for the statement that residents of Verdugo canyon district will be present in large number to demand a school for their section of the city. At the present time pupils living in the Woodlands must take the street car down to the Doran street, Broadway or Intermediate schools.

Additions to several other buildings are also necessary to provide classrooms for the ever-increasing number of children, according to Mr. White.

KEARNEY TO GET BIG U. S. HANGAR

HUGE STRUCTURE WILL BE BUILT FOR DIRIGIBLES IN USE OF NAVY

SAN DIEGO—The immense hangar for dirigibles that is to house the largest dirigible of the navy of the United States will be built at Camp Kearney, according to a telegram received here by the chamber of commerce.

The hangar will be 1200 feet long, 400 feet wide and in height will be equal to an eighteen-story house. One thousand acres at Camp Kearney will be used as the site for the big airship's home.

The dirigible, now being built in England, will probably be the world's most powerful aircraft. Its cost will be about $2,000,000. The chamber of commerce here recently offered the government twenty-five acres of land at Camp Kearney. This offer will be accepted and the government will purchase in addition nearly 1000 acres at a price not to exceed $100 an acre.

REVERSE CURVE AT S. F. ROAD CAUSE OF OBJECTIONS

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND IMPROVEMENT CLUB TO APPEAL TO TRUSTEES

The Brand Boulevard Improvement association is to make itself heard tomorrow night at the meeting of the Glendale city trustees. Its representatives, backed by a Chamber of Commerce committee comprised of Dan Campbell, G. H. Bentley and S. C. Parker, will be present to ask that the reverse curve at the north-east corner of San Fernando road and Brand boulevard be eliminated.

Clinton L. Booth appeared as spokesman for the improvement association at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last night and requested the appointment of the committee.

On the motion of V. M. Hollister, the chamber board approved the elimination of the "V" turn into Brand boulevard from San Fernando road for motorists coming to Glendale and he also requested that the committee ask the city trustees to order the trees trimmed along San Fernando road in order that the Glendale electric sign could be seen for a greater distance.

VAINLY SEEK FOR CURE TO DISEASE

REMEDY FOR SLEEP SICKNESS NOT YET DISCOVERED, IS REPORT BY BUREAU

LONDON—No remedy has yet been found for "sleeping sickness," according to a report by the ministry of health, following a world investigation of the malady.

According to report, the malady is growing more frequent in most countries. There were 402 cases reported thus far this year as against 268 for the entire first quarter of 1920. The deaths in England for 1920 totaled 318.

The health ministry recommends isolation and careful nursing. The disease is declared to have no connection with influenza or the hiccough epidemic.

FRENCH HEROISM IN WORLD WAR TOLD AT GATHERING

FIFTY GENERALS HEAR SOME THRILLING STORIES OF BRAVERY OF TROOPS

PARIS—Little by little many heroic incidents, in the early days of the great war, are being revealed by individual commanders who heretofore have failed to get the full share of glory to which their victories entitled them. Incidents typical of French heroism under difficulties, were revealed recently, before a group of fifty generals and one-time French cavalry officers by General Pelecier, who told how for two days in September, during the first year of the war, the fifth French cavalry division actually reconnoitered night and day behind General Von Kluck's overwhelming armies, destroying, meantime, small German units and on one occasion almost capturing the Prussian leader himself.

"You have no fixed orders; do your best," were the only orders given to General Lucinier, then commanding the fifth cavalry division, who, accordingly gathered together an organization of picked dragoons and chasseurs, a small artillery group and one cyclist company in all, not more than 1800 men who were supplied with only meager rations and who were tired after the retreat from Belgium.

Breach in Enemy Ranks
A breach in the enemy's ranks was found near the village of Leveigne. They passed through it and were soon lost in the darkness well behind the German western front. They soon discovered that this territory was filled with German squads which were hastily preparing bases for new advances.

General Lucinier divided his force into several groups, each of which finally returned to the French headquarters with their ranks terribly depleted.

In so far as it concerned the kind of fighting these men did during the forty-eight hours they were in the rear of Von Kluck's armies, General Pelecier led the capture by them of a German aviation section which was busy trying to install a camp near Morte Fontaine. The German bivouac was quickly enveloped and by the unintentional firing of a large petrol dump, the French diverted the attention of the enemy, allowing the rushing forward of the French lance dragoons.

German Camp Annihilated
"Few of our troops survived, it is true, but the German camp was entirely annihilated," General Pelecier declared.

It was during the reconnaissance the second day that the Germans attacked in the northwest by General Manauroy, commenced a retreat. Von Kluck admitted that his headquarters was at one time surrounded by this valiant French cavalry.

The German leader, believing he had retreated into a stronger French flanking movement, immediately saved his army by changing his retreat direction northward, thus enabling General Lucinier's troops to join the main body of the Marne troops for the first great French victory in the war.

Airplanes Not Substitute
The greatest effect of these new revelations of French heroism is not in the additional prestige they give certain French generals, but in the incentive given the French general staff not to abolish the cavalry arm of the service, as some military writers propose.

"Airplanes are by no means a substitute for cavalry," said one general at the conclusion of General Pelecier's recital. "Airplanes are good enough for huge mass operations over a lengthy front, but for detail reconnaissance and divisional operations, the glory of cavalry initiative remains undimmed, as in the days when the French represented the highest type of soldiery and strategy."

Faith in Glendale

Years ago when Glendale was a struggling village with no prospects of her present development and prosperity, I had faith in her future.

I knew that her situation and her natural beauty would eventually bring her into her own and place her in a position of prominence and power.

My expectations have more than been fulfilled. Even my optimism and my faith could scarcely have foreseen that Glendale in 1921 would be the fastest growing city in the United States.

My Faith and Optimism Are Greater Today Than They Were Years Ago

Having seen Glendale's marvelous development in the past ten years it is easy to look forward into the future and foresee a still more wonderful future. And I believe that the people of Glendale and the business men are with me in believing in and working for a greater Glendale.

CHINA'S OPEN DOOR TO BE PROPOSED, ASSERTS KNOX

FREEDOM TO BE REALITY, NOT MERELY PHRASE, DECLARES ADVISOR TO HARDING

BY RALPH H. TURNER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Under the Harding administration, Republican leaders will set forth to strengthen America's position in the Orient.

This was the intimation contained in a statement by Senator Knox, who endorsed the principles of a foreign loan consortium for financing China and expressed the hope that America will take the lead in making the "open door" in China "a reality and not merely a phrase."

Knox's statement was considered significant, following the knowledge that the Wilson administration, suspending plans for any further action, had decided to bequeath to the new government the handling of the Chinese conrotium, organized largely through the efforts of Thomas W. Lamont, of Morgan & Co.

Knox is peculiarly fitted to speak on the probable Oriental policy of the Republicans, for it was he who proposed in 1910, while secretary of state, that the railroads of Manchuria be "internationalized." By this move Knox hoped to gain an equal place for America in Chinese affairs and to check aggression by other foreign powers. Knox also was secretary of state when the United States joined the international group to aid China, only to withdraw shortly after W. J. Bryan became head of the state department.

May Advise Harding
Republican leaders declare that because of his experience Knox will be one of Harding's chief advisers on far eastern matters.

"If my opinion is asked," Knox said today, "I would strongly urge America's active participation in the loan consortium. America's presence in the group insures aid to China without the suggestion of ulterior motives which sometimes have accompanied the movements of foreign powers in Chinese territory. It also means that America will have a voice in matters which affect China, her sovereignty and her territorial integrity."

It will be up to the Republican administration to develop the consortium to the point where actual advances to China will be forthcoming. Although there are four powers in the group—the United States, Britain, France and Japan—America, it is understood, will be largely dependent upon to carry the loan burden.

At Close of Wilson Rule
At the close of the Wilson administration, this is the status of the consortium:

The four powers have signed a formal agreement providing that banking groups of each nation shall unite in loans to China for the development of her public utilities. Any national group not desiring to issue bonds in its own market may request the other groups to include its share in their issue, a provision designed to enable America to carry England and France, if this is necessary. Japan first blocked the consortium scheme, but finally withdrew most of her reservations.

No money has yet been loaned by the consortium and none will be, it is stated, until the change in American administration.

CLASS MEMBERS HOLD GATHERING

SESSION TURNED TO SHOWER FOR MISS MARGARET LUSBY, SOON TO WED

The Philathea class of the First Methodist Sunday school held its monthly meeting at the home of Miss Dorothy Hamilton, 350 Ivy street, last night, the same taking the form of a shower for Miss Margaret Lusby.

A fine cafeteria dinner was partaken of, after which games and music supplied entertainment for the evening. One of the interesting features of the evening was the hunting for matched quotations by the girls. When Miss Lusby succeeded in finding hers, she found it attached to a beautiful electric percolator, a gift to her from the class.

Those present were Miss Leone Shattuck, Miss Lavera Kitterman, Miss Doris Ingledue, Miss Ruth Sparford, Miss Eunice Peart, Miss Beatrice Lanning, Miss Lois Murphy, Miss Ruth Crowthers, Miss Freda Goertz, Miss Agnes Verity, Miss Elsie Verity, Miss Jensen, Miss Waunita Emery, Miss Nyda Dana, Miss Eusebia Farrand, Miss Gilbert, Miss Ella Vinocke, Miss Margaret Black, Mrs. Wilbur Lee, Mrs. Frank Weller, Mrs. Edwin Murphy, Mrs. C. ## INTEREST SHOWN IN LESS THAN HALF OF MEASURES

MANY BILLS PRESENTED IN LEGISLATURE THAT ARE OF LITTLE NOTICE

SACRAMENTO—You aren't going to be interested in more than one-half of the 2168 bills that have been introduced in the state legislature. Less than one-half of the bills are of statewide interest, according to the legislative department of the state library, which has just completed an examination of pending measures.

And 54.2 per cent of the bills relate only to administrative and salary changes in state and local government, changes in court procedure and other matters of formal and routine nature.

The greatest single group of bills are those relating to county government, which constitute more than 14 per cent of the total number introduced. Nearly all of these measures relate to changes in the salaries and fees of county township officials and to changes in the administration routine of various county offices.

Changes in Legal Procedure
Thirteen per cent of the bills propose changes in matters of legal procedure covered by the civil code and code of civil procedure.

Bills relating to state government make up over 8 per cent of the total. Bills relating to municipal and district government make up 6 per cent. Local acts validating the organization of irrigation districts, making special highway appropriations or relating to other routine matters make up 7.5 per cent of the total.

Business and Industries
Of the measures that are of general interest the greatest number relate to the regulation of business and industrial life. Measures of this nature consist of 10 per cent of the total.

Labor bills on the other hand, constitute 3.4 per cent of the total, the smallest separate grouping made. Educational bills make up 9.5 per cent of the total. Of the other groupings, fish and game hold 4.3 per cent and agriculture 3.8 per cent. Legislation of general nature which is not otherwise classified constitute 19.9 per cent of the whole.
